Membership Rules including Short Game Practice Area Rules and Safety Etiquette

- The short game practice area is limited to up to four people using four rented shag bags at a time for one-hour usage per bag. Do not bring your own balls to hit in lieu of checking out a shag bag.
- The short game practice area is not intended to be used in lieu of the driving range nor intended for hitting iron shots. Full shots exceeding 60 yards are prohibited. Do not practice hitting over the central green. Please be aware that for the safety of all members and patrons utilizing the short game practice area as well as golfers on the course, persons found violating this rule will be asked to leave the short game area. Memberships may be revoked without refund if you are repeatedly asked to abide by this rule.
- If other members and patrons are using the short game practice area, please be aware of their locations and do not position yourself in front of them and find a location where you are less likely to disrupt someone else's practice. The space is large enough to comfortably and safely accommodate four people practicing their short game if you are respectful of your position and actions.
- Errant shots are to be expected while practicing. Yell 'Fore!' as needed to other patrons and any golfers on #10 tee box. Wearing headphones are discouraged if you are unable to hear other golfers yelling warnings to you.
- Communicate politely with other patrons if you need additional space to avoid causing injury to others or wait to use an area if you feel that you need more space. Do not force others to move by hitting towards them. Be courteous if another member or patron expresses their need for additional space.
- Please shag balls and return a full bag to the golf shop. Do not hit balls onto the driving range or course.
- Please fix and fill divots and rake bunkers.
- There is an area reserved on the driving range for Metro Links members. Members are welcome to use other stalls, excluding the area reserved for instruction and the UC Berkeley golf teams. Space is subject to availability.

Membership fees and privileges are valid from date of purchase to December 31, 2018 and are neither refundable nor transferable.
